CORONER JURY ORDERS MRS. SHEPHERD HELD

REPORT HOLDS PAIR GUILTY OF 2 MURDERS

Say Woman Was Accessory of Husband in Slaying of McClintock Widow

JUDGE SCORES COUPLE

Characterizes One as "Lady Macbeth." Other as "Soft and Weak Willed"

By Associated Press
Chicago, Ill.—Described as a "Lady Macbeth" by Judge Harry Olson, instigator of the inquiry into the death of William N. McClintock, orphan millionaire, Mrs. William D. Shepherd, whose husband had been indicted for his murder, was recommended held as an accessory by the investigating coroner's jury in its final report Tuesday night.

Mrs. Shepherd hastily left her suburban home after the jury reported and could not be found by police men who went there to take her on a coroner's inquest. Robert M. Stoll, her attorney, said he would surrender her Wednesday and endeavor to obtain her release on bail.

The coroner's jury concurred in the action of the grand jury in indicting Shepherd and Charles C. Falmour, who confessed Shepherd offered him $100,000 for a "sympathetic" verdict in the McClintock case. The report accused Mrs. Shepherd of "resulting knowledge" of the administration of typhoid germs or other manner causing the death of the deceased.

WAS POISONED
Shepherd was recommended held on a murder charge, with his wife as an accessory. In the death 16 years ago of Mrs. Emma Nelson McClintock, the young millionaire's mother. The jury found Mrs. McClintock died of mercury poisoning, administered by Shepherd, of which his wife was found in her exhumed body.

The jury was unable to fix the cause of death three years ago of Dr. Oscar Olson, brother of Judge Olson and friend of the McClintocks. No poison was found in his exhumed body.

The findings ended a five-month investigation in which three bodies were disinterred, 75 witnesses examined and 1,600 pages of testimony taken and came after Judge Olson spent several hours in a scathing denunciation of the Shepherds.

Judge Olson characterized Mrs. Shepherd as "a cold, calculating, cold and purposeful, a strong masculine woman" and her husband as "a weak and weakwilled, unfit to earn a living for himself."

CHARGES CONSPIRACY
"He charged that a 16-year-old conspiracy existed which culminated in young McClintock's death after he had made a will leaving his estate of nearly $2,000,000 to Shepherd, with the exception of an $5,000 annuity to his fiancée, Miss Isabelle Pope.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney in a statement after the jury's report said: "It is unfortunate at this time in the case against Shepherd set for trial on May 15, that the coroner of this county thinks the coroner's jury is the grand jury and that the chief justice of the municipal court (Judge Olson) thinks he is the state's attorney of this county. The present court will not amplify his statement, but it was taken to mean that responsibility had been shifted to the state's attorney by holding Mrs. Shepherd at a time when the activities of his office were centered in preparing Shepherd's trial."

Houghton Speech Reflects Coolidge's Foreign Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925 by Post Pub. Co., Washington, D. C. — Europe may well wonder today as does Washington at the cryptic utterance of Ambassador Houghton in London who said that if peace were not forthcoming abroad, the "helpful processes now in motion" in America must cease.

The speech reflects the views of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg and was intended to awaken Europe to the necessity for further steps that will assure peace and reconstruction. Broadly speaking, it is in line with everything that has been said in the past by American spokesmen, namely that the United States wants Europe to put its house in order first and help will come afterward.

So far as the United States government is concerned, it has under the Harding Coolidge administrations tried to diminish activities in Europe. American bankers and business men alone have given Europe a helping

500 RIFLES FALL IN NEW ATTACKS ON FRENCH ZONE

Rebels Are Repulsed and Abd-El-Krim's March on Fez Gets Severe Setback

Rabat, French Morocco.—An official communiqué Wednesday reports a fierce fight between French and Rifian troops in which the French repulsed violent counter attacks, killed "many of the enemy" and took some prisoners.

The French losses in the recent engagements with Abd-El-Krim's forces are given by the authorities as four officers and ten men killed, most of them being natives. The French estimate the Rifian losses at about 500 killed.

French headquarters state that the operations of freeing the French advance posts from the invaders are continuing normally. It is believed that Abd-El-Krim's proposed march on Fez has received such a sharp setback that his operations are likely to be slowed up for a few days.

Fez, French Morocco.—Abd-El-Krim, the Moroccan rebel leader now is reported to have mobilized 20,000 Rifian tribesmen for his attack on the French zone, instead of the 4,000 previously estimated. Of these forces, 5,000 are on the border between Spanish and French zones, from which they are making raids into territory occupied by the French in their advance of last autumn. Colonel Freydenberg in a series of fiercely contested engagements, is reported to be clearing the central sector, while to the east, in the vicinity of Tazat, General Cambay, after driving back the invaders, has successfully repulsed a series of counter attacks.

HALF MILE "TRAIN" OF BARGES TO LEAVE PORT
Superior — Nearly half a mile of barges, coupled together at a box style Wednesday are scheduled to move out of the head of the Lakes Thursday morning, pulled by the latest tug on the Great Lakes.

The "train," which will comprise seven barges, and the tug Favorite, will be 2,500 feet long and, according to John Goldsman, manager of the Marine Iron and Shipbuilding company, which built the craft, the fleet will be the largest that ever left the twin ports in a single tow.

The boats are the Niagara, Erie, Oswego, G. H. I. and J. Two are booked for Buffalo, two for Oswego, N. Y., and the other three will go to Cleveland. The seven vessels were built for the federal government at a cost of $120,000.

SNOW IN MILWAUKEE, NORTH HIT BY FROST
Milwaukee.—A light snow which vanished almost as soon as it struck the ground fell here early Wednesday. The weather bureau reported no frost.

Reports of killing frost were received at noon from the northwestern counties of the state. The weather bureau announced, however, that no damage to berries, which are found in that section, had been reported. A light frost was reported from La Crosse but not of a killing nature.

DEFENDS DEED

hand, and it is considered today that Ambassador Houghton was predicting an end of that kind of help rather than of governmental assistance.

It is no secret that even on the all-important Dawes plan the United States government officially declined to participate, and that the initiative was taken by a group of American business men cooperating with business men in other countries through the international chamber of commerce and that the Dawes plan is virtually the scheme laid down by that body.

As for foreign loans, the American government has insisted that loans for military purposes should not be made by American bankers and so far as known no such appeals for funds have been made here. Yet more than $5,000,000 have been lent to Europe in private loans which in turn has permitted certain European countries to divert other loans to military uses. Although the American government has no legal right to interfere with the making of any loans, the threat has always been made that it might enter moral obligations.

It is not understood, however, that Ambassador Houghton meant to imply that American bankers were getting tired of lending money to Europe but that the American people as investors would begin to get weary of foreign loans if Europe did not make rapid strides in her reconstruction process.

European diplomats expressing their views informally were inclined to take a more optimistic view of the future, declaring that if America had seen fit to lend $5,000,000,000 in the last seven years of turmoil the extension of material and in the years that lie ahead would, relatively speaking, be easier to make for Europe is admittedly better off now than five years ago.

There is no impression among local diplomats that Ambassador Houghton was holding out hopes for a change in the Coolidge administration's foreign policy. The speech could of course be interpreted to mean that America might be disposed to participate in a movement to assure European peace if Europe could convince America that the destructive methods of the past were being abandoned. But such an interpretation would imply a fundamental change in policy in Washington which, it can be stated on the best of the authority, is not contemplated.

BLAINE VETOES POLICE PENSION
Says Enforcement of Retirement Compensation is Against Home Rule Law

By Associated Press
Madison.—Governor Blaine vetoed the bill to compel fourth class cities to pension members of their police department on the ground that it violates the new home rule amendment to the constitution.

The home rule amendment, the executive informed the assembly, restricts the cities only as to the enactment of the legislature of state wide concern, and subject to the constitution. The question of pensioning members of a police department is purely a local matter, he declared.

The bill sought to amend the present law which merely permits cities of the fourth class to pension policemen by making the provision compulsory.

Governor Blaine vetoed the bill to prevent "slandering" of cooperative associations. The measure, sponsored by Assemblyman J. C. Hanson, Deerfield, would make it a crime to circulate false reports derogatory to the financial condition of credit organizations. Its opponents have termed it an "espionage bill."

SEVEN KILLED IN NEW OUTBREAKS IN POLAND
Warsaw, Poland.—Terrorist activities alleged to be organized and directed by Communists, is being renewed in Poland.

From the Blotowka Puszcza, the former Russian crown forests, comes a story of murder and pillage by a band of armed men who left "receipts" in the pillaged houses signed "The White Russian Communist Party." The gang killed a policeman and a head forester and a forest keeper and wounded four other persons.

Serious railroad accidents have been avoided in three different places in Poland recently only by the vigilance of the railway workers, and the ministry has ordered the posting of guards and more frequent patrolling of the tracks.

AMUNDSEN SET FOR DASH TO POLE BY AIR

By Associated Press
New York.—Roald Amundsen's impending dash to the north pole by airplane, tentatively set to start from Spitzbergen, Norway, Wednesday afternoon, marks the beginning of the efforts of three nations to conquer by air that portion of the frozen northern wastes which in 400 years of exploration by ship and dog sled have been reached by only one expedition, that of Admiral Peary 16 years ago.

Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, carrying the flag of Norway, will be followed in June by expeditions headed by Donald B. MacMillan, United States, and Grettir Algarsson, Great Britain, all three taking to the air from bases to be established 550 miles by airplane from the pole.

Amundsen, leaving his two ships at the northernmost point of Spitzbergen, will attempt the flight in two Dornier whales—all metal monoplane flying boats with bottoms shaped like sleds so they can land on ice, snow or water.

Algarsson's attempt has been the most daring, and the MacMillan, United States navy expedition is conceded to be the most elaborate of the three. In a blimp the gas bag capacity of which is less than one-twentieth that of the Shenandoah, Algarsson hopes to take off from his ship, Liverpool, anchored somewhere west of Spitzbergen.

MacMillan's is the only expedition which hopes to chart definitely that vast unexplored area on the Alaska-Siberia side of the pole. This area may be the unknown continent both Peary and MacMillan on the latter's previous expedition asserted they saw, but could not reach.

RAILROAD ORDER ASKED TO IGNORE THIRD PARTY
Minneapolis, Minn.—The future political activity of the Order of Railroad Conductors of America, was at stake as delegates to the organization's triennial convention here assembled Wednesday after a turbulent session Monday.

The order's support of a third national political party was attacked at the meeting when L. E. Shepard, president, presented a resolution asking that the organization formally decide what part it is to take in politics in the future. Mr. Shepard has recommended at a previous meeting of the order's political committee that support of such a party be withdrawn.

FINDING BABY'S SKULL REOPENS KIDNAP PROBE
Chicago.—The finding of the skull of a 20-month-old baby by boys searching for baseballs between two south side tenements has started police search for Mrs. Helen Karatun, 18, who over a year ago reported her baby was kidnapped. She formerly lived a block from where the skull was found. At the time her confession stories resulted in a test of her sanity and she was released after being found sane.

FIREMEN LOSE LIVES IN FIRE AT ATLANTA
Atlanta, Ga.—Several city firemen were killed here early Wednesday when a wall and second floor of a building in which they were fighting fire fell in. Six bodies had been recovered and police were searching for others.

The firemen were pinned under the weight of cotton stored on the second floor of the building when the structure collapsed. Some were thought to have smothered to death.

Germans Regard France As American Envoy's Target

Washington.—Complete analysis of the reception accorded in European capitals to Ambassador Houghton's London address is awaiting some comment from Paris, where press accounts of the speech were brief and no immediate editorial expression was offered.

Added interest attaches to the reaction in France in view of the interpretation of the address by Berlin Lokal Anzeiger as "plainly a shot at France," while other opinion abroad saw it in a generalized pronouncement of conditions upon which American assistance should be based.

German comment in diplomatic circles here also regarded France as the speaker's target, while French observers inclined to the view that the ambassador had in mind the election of von Hindenburg.

The ambassador's address which was made on his own responsibility is

Ban On Dodge Stock Issue Doesn't Faze Wall Street

By Associated Press
New York.—Financial circles profess to be unperturbed over the action of the Michigan securities commission forbidding the sale in that state of the $85,000,000 stock issue of Dodge Brothers, Inc., floated by Dillon, Read and Co. of this city, which has reorganized the automobile concern.

The action of the commission will have no effect outside of Michigan. In financial circles, it is recalled, that similar action was taken in Illinois in 1921 against W. C. Durant's promotion of Durant Motors, Inc.

It is stated that about $1,500,000 of new Dodge securities has been sold in Michigan. It is expected that the stock sold there will be returned to the bankers and resold in other states.

LENROOT TO ASK SENATE QUIZ OF ROAD'S FAILURE
Think Receivership of St. Paul Railway Was Forced by Group of Bankers

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Investigation of the recent failure of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad will be demanded by Senator Lenroot, Rep., Wisconsin, immediately after congress convenes in December.

Senator Lenroot announced Wednesday that he would introduce a resolution calling for an inquiry either by the senate or by the interstate commerce commission.

"There are 1,100 Wisconsin resident stockholders in the Milwaukee road," he said. "The government is a creditor to the amount of over $55,000,000 and the general public is concerned as well."

"I have no reason to doubt the honesty and efficiency of the management of the road in recent years, but there are rumors that a receivership was not really necessary, but was brought about by a group of bankers, and not in the interest of the stockholders. I believe also that an investigation will tend to bring about greater protection to the stockholders in the reorganization proposed to be effected."

RECOMMEND $250,000 FOR OSHKOSH NORMAL
FOR OSHKOSH NORMAL
By Associated Press
Madison.—The state normal school omnibus appropriation bill for the biennium beginning July 1, 1925, reported in by the legislative joint finance committee Wednesday, will allocate approximately $2,192,000 set aside for all purposes for 1925, and $2,115,000 allotted for 1926. The recommendation was for passage.

River Falls and Stevens Point normals would receive $150,000 each; Oshkosh normal school would receive $250,000 for purchase of land, $100,000 in 1925 and $125,000 in 1926 for construction of a new building.

All money received from sale of buildings now on Sinclair Mainland property are to be paid within one week into normal school fund income, and is appropriated to normal board for land improvements. Superior normal receives $5,000 additional for working capital.

SACHTJEN REAPPOINTED CHIEF OF DRY FORCES
Madison.—Herman W. Sachtlein, speaker of the assembly Wednesday, was reappointed state prohibition commissioner by Governor John J. Blaine. The nomination was sent to the state senate for approval.

Mr. Sachtlein said he would confer with some of his friends before deciding whether to accept the post, which he resigned the opening of the legislative session.

"I respond you for the reason that you have continued to keep the state prohibition enforcement clean," Governor Blaine wrote to the former commissioner.

Since presenting his resignation, Mr. Sachtlein has served as chief of the state dry forces without pay, pending action by the governor. The executive stated that "the position is no easy one, but carried with it a great deal of responsibility."

COAST PATROL SEIZES BOAT, CREW ESCAPES

Prohibition Armada Plans to Match Marine Bootleggers Vessel for Vessel TO EXTEND BLOCKADE
Dry Navy to Concentrate Efforts Against Liquor Smuggling on Great Lakes

BULLETIN
New York.—Citizens who inform the federal authorities of liquor smuggling activities leading to the conviction of bootleggers under the customs law will receive 25 per cent of the fines imposed and of the money obtained through the sale of seized boats, Edward Barnes, assistant solicitor to the collector of the port announced Wednesday.

New York.—Through the censorship accompanying Uncle Sam's blockade of the rum fleet their filtered Wednesday news of increases to the greatest dry armada ever in action. Came two suggestions that the Great Lakes as well as the Atlantic would be the scene of a blockade. Twenty-one boats have gone from New York to watch the liquor fleet, boat for boat, on a 50-mile front an hour's steaming distance from shore. Twenty-five craft from New England ports joined those from New York. Twelve more "gun chasers" are ready to depart for the zone of action from their Staten Island base.

READY IN SUMMER
Reports from Detroit say that a dry fleet of ten craft is expected to be ready by summer for action on the Great Lakes. Later it will be supplemented by another fleet, construction of which has also started.

The plan of matching the liquor fleet, boat for boat is expected to drive the rum selling craft back to their home ports in the West Indies, the maritime provinces of Canada and France and England. They will be unable to get food or water from shore or to sell any liquor, if the blockade is effective.

One prize is already reported. After a five-mile chase that involved shooting and bloodshed a speeding liquor boat was beached at Sea-bright, N. J. After beaching the craft the men aboard escaped. There were 250 cases of liquor aboard and a pool of blood was noted in the cockpit.

DISORDERS IN LISBON STREETS FOLLOW POLLS
Lisbon, Portugal.—Disorders have broken out again in Lisbon and Wednesday the streets were patrolled by cavalry. Occasional revolver shots are heard, a few persons have been wounded and many arrests have been made. The disorders began Sunday night as a result of the elections. Tuesday night women led a street parade followed by male demonstrators who occasionally fired shots. Thereupon government troops charged the demonstrators, and these troops are now awaiting reinforcements to establish order.

PHILIPPINE EXECUTIVE DENIES VACATION PLAN

ORDER SHERIFF TO THROW PRISONER OUT OF JAIL
Chippewa Falls.—Albert Paul, Eau Claire barber was ordered forcibly ejected from the Chippewa Falls jail by Judge James Wickham in circuit court here late Tuesday.

Paul, who was found guilty of violating of the prohibition law, was ordered to pay a fine of $500, the money to be taken from his bond. Paul refused to accept the decision and insisted on serving an alternative four months sentence.

Judge Wickham, in ordering Sheriff Edgar A. Firth to oust Paul from the jail, offered his help if necessary.

SEVERAL ARE KILLED IN BLAST OF 3 BUILDINGS
Pittsburg.—Six bodies had been recovered early Wednesday from the ruins of three buildings in Swisecave, a suburb, which were wrecked by an explosion shortly after midnight. COUNCIL ORDERS
NEARLY A MILE OF WATER MAINS

Deposit of $20 Required After April 1 Expected to Reduce Number of Petitions

Water main extensions authorized by the city council thus far this year amount to slightly more than 5,000 feet, which is approximately one quarter of the total extensions laid during the 1924 season. The number of services installed this season up to date is practically the same as last year, according to Fred R. Morris, assistant secretary of the water works commission.

Since April 1 a ruling has been in effect that requires a deposit of $20 for every lot affected by new extensions. This ruling is expected, will result in keeping the number of extensions this year down to little more than they are at present, for since April 1 very few new petitions have been received for extensions.

The deposit of $20 per lot is intended as an evidence of good faith on the part of petitioners. In previous years it often occurred that only three out of eight property owners who signed petitions made use of the water service after the extension was installed, and no revenue was derived by the water commission from the other five lots. Under the present system a deposit of $20 must be made for each lot when a petition is represented for an extension.

This deposit is used to defray part of the cost of trenching and piping from the main to the sidewalk when the extension is made, and unless the property owner makes use of the service, the deposit will represent buried capital to him. Thus the deposit acts as a guarantee that the service will be used.

The 5,000 feet of extensions authorized by the council thus far this year will be made on S. River, Calumet and S. Jefferson-sts. The greatest extension will be made on S. River-st., where 2,700 feet will be laid from S. Lawrence to S. Kernan-ave. The Calumet-st installation will be 1,700 feet and the S. Jefferson-st extension 240 feet. The first extension to be made this year will be that on S. River-st. and work will be started there within the week.

DISTRICT CHIEF

Koffend Expresses Pride of Club at Honor—Dinner
Dance Is Held

Lee C. Rasey's election last week at Madison as governor of the Tenth Rotary district was honored by Appleton Rotary club at a banquet at Hotel Northern Tuesday evening. Several addresses and musical selections were given and a dance followed. George E. Wetzel, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. Dr. Joseph Koffend, Jr., spoke for the club concerning the honor paid to Mr. Rasey. He said the Tenth district was fortunate in having a man of Mr. Rasey's caliber as its governor. His election was an honor to the Appleton club, to the city as a whole and to Rotary in general.

Although Rotary clubs are found in 33 countries of the world, said Mr. Koffend, there are fewer district governors than there are governors of states, showing how extensive a task they have on their shoulders. The governors and the board of directors of Rotary International meet for a week each year in Chicago to plan activities, and the gathering brings together some of the best and most brainy men of the country.

Mr. Rasey responded by thanking Appleton Rotary club for its part in thus honoring him. He said he appreciated what a responsibility had been placed on his shoulders and asked for the cooperation not only of the clubs of the district but also of the Appleton club in carrying out his work.

Dr. T. D. Smith, president of the Rotary club at Neenah, gave a talk congratulating Mr. Rasey and the Appleton organization on the honor bestowed. A telegram was read by Dr. A. B. Rector expressing the regret of Marlow Clark of Marquette, Mich., in not being able to attend the dinner for the new governor. Mr. Rasey was placed in nomination by Mr. Clark, past president of Marquette club.

DRAMATIC COACH HAS HAD WEALTH OF EXPERIENCE

Prof. Orr Directing Lawrence Play, "Dulcy," Has Been in Work 20 Years

With Prof. F. W. Orr as coach, "Dulcy," all-college play to be presented May 11 at Fischer's Appleton theater, more than promises to equal the past records of the Lawrence drama and dramatic mentor. Prof. Orr's skill in the dramatic art will be aided by the play itself, as it is in construction and technique of exceptional merit.

Prof. Orr came to Lawrence in 1910. Trained at Drury college and at the Curry school of Expression, Boston, his work seemed to forecast his success. He graduated from the Boston school in 1905. Before coming to Lawrence he was connected with Woodberry Forest school, Orange, Va., and at Pacific university. He had dramatic experience with E. A. Sathoru and Sir Henry Irvine.

One of his most noted successes as dramatic coach and trainer came in his training of the cast which presented "The Bridge of the Gods," dramatized from Balch's novel, at the Alaska-Yukon exposition. This Indian tragedy of the Pacific northwest was given during the exposition. In 1911 Prof. Orr produced the play at Appleton with a Lawrence cast.

He has had success with several Shakespearean comedies, such as "Twelfth Night," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "As You Like It." A list of the plays presented by Prof. Orr at Lawrence follows: For 1911—The Twelfth Night; 1912—The Bridge of the Gods; 1913—As You Like It; 1914—Our Boys; 1915—Midsummer Night's Dream; 1916—Charley's Aunt; 1917—Green Stockings; 1918—Nobles; 1919—The First Lady of the Land; 1920—Rivals; 1921—Come Out of the Kitchen; 1922—Fanny and the Servant Problem; 1923—Alice Sit-by-the-Fire. This discloses the wide range of subject appeal handled by Prof. Orr.

SEEK NEW TRIAL OF INJURY CASE

Clintonville Man, Assessed
$8,500 by Jury, Wants
Case Reviewed

Arguments for a new trial of the case of the estate of Beatrice Wied against J. J. Kingston, Clintonville, and others, will be heard by Judge Byron B. Parks in circuit court in Waupaca early next week. A jury in circuit court some months ago returned a verdict of $8,500 against Mr. Kingston and an effort will be made to secure another hearing.

The case grew out of an accident about a year ago on the road between New London and Bear Creek. Miss Wied, a young girl, was walking along the road when two cars collided, and she was caught in the jam and thrown against a telephone pole. Some months later she died and her father sued Mr. Kingston and the owners and driver of the other car, charging they were responsible for the child's death.

Kingston contended that the girl died as a result of an ailment with which she had been suffering before the accident and the injuries she received in the wreck were not the cause of her death.

The talk will be followed by a discussion of the electrical dealers code and some of the immediate changes. Practically every Appleton dealer is intending to be present.

STATING AMERICA'S POLICY

A speech of international importance, and of much significance in the foreign policy of the Coolidge administration, was that made by Ambassador Houghton in London, in which the American representative declared that unless peace, based on good-will, were re-established in Europe, assistance of this country in its reconstruction would cease. "The full measure of American helpfulness," he declared, "can be obtained only when the American people are assured the time for destructive methods and policies has passed and that the time for peaceful upbuilding has come."

This utterance of Ambassador Houghton is interpreted as having a direct application to the recent election of von Hindenburg as president of Germany and the possible resumption of a militaristic foreign policy and return of the junkers to power. It is said in Washington that Mr. Houghton's warning had the full approval of President Coolidge, who knew beforehand what his ambassador was to say.

The United States, more than any other nation—possibly more than all other nations combined—can prevent Europe from returning to policies of reprisal and conquest that will terminate only in war. Europe is economically and financially dependent to a very large degree on the United States. In our judgment, it is entirely dependent on the moral good-will of the United States, so long as we adhere to the principles in international affairs that have historically governed us.

We believe that if it were practical for the United States to denounce acts of militarism by any of the great powers of Europe, this moral condemnation alone would make the position of that nation untenable before the world. When, therefore, we serve notice that we shall withdraw our cooperation and support, and inferentially our friendly relations, if Europe, or any of its leading powers, again turn to offensive policies which are calculated to bring on war, it is going a long way toward the policy of President Wilson in his attempt to organize an effective League of Nations. It is almost equivalent to applying an economic boycott. It cannot fail to have a profound effect in Europe, particularly in Germany and France, where it is most needed.

THE OTHER EXTREME

The most drastic enforcing act yet passed by a state is that which has just become effective in Indiana. It provides severe penalty for every conceivable transgression of the spirit or letter of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act. Jail sentences are required in many instances. A man may be sent to jail for having an ounce of liquor in his possession or in his home. No quarter is given a person who seeks by any hook or crook to evade banded prohibition. In the first few days of the application of this liquor law, upwards of 200 arrests were made. In some towns the jails were filled to overflowing. In others there were the usual number of arrests, and in some there was a noticeable decrease in violations of the law, evidently from fear of the penalties newly provided.

This experiment in Indiana with prohibition enforcement doubtless is a direct result of the farcical treatment of the Volstead act throughout the United States. Indiana has been caught in a revulsion of feeling for the contempt in which prohibition is held and the comedy of its so-called enforcement. Its law makers have gone to the other extreme. In theory they are of course right. If the prohibition law is to stand, it ought to be enforced 100 percent. Indiana, therefore, is on the right side of the question legally and ethically.

But no one expects that Indiana will seriously attempt to enforce prohibition for any length of time. She had an anti-cigarette law some fifteen years ago, and it was vigorously enforced for a few weeks and then entirely forgotten. It will be the same with this fresh attempt to outlaw liquor. There will be a spirited response to the command of the legislators for a short time. The man with a thirst will have to be reckless in the chances he takes if he wishes to quench it. There will be a mighty upheaval for a few months, and then the pendulum will begin to swing the other way. In the larger cities the underground channels of the bootlegger will gradually be restored and liquor will once more commence to filter into Indiana. Within a year in all probability it will be as easy to get liquor in Indianapolis as it is in any other city. This is the prospect, figured on the law of averages for prohibition enforcement throughout the country.

Nevertheless, Indiana is to be commended for going all the way in an effort to make the state banded. That is the spirit and purpose of the Volstead act and while that law is on the statute books the oaths of office of our legislators and the enforcing officers demand that it be upheld. This newspaper believes in the absolute enforcement of prohibition or in its modification. Existing conditions are intolerable. They cannot continue indefinitely, if this nation is to retain its respect for government and the supremacy of law. We are not, as we have said, hopeful of the experiment Indiana has entered upon. Past experiences indicate that it will be a failure. If, however, it should prove to be a success it will be a suitable pattern for other states to follow, until we succeed in establishing prohibition 100 per cent. As a matter of fact, we do not think one person out of ten believes this can or ever will be done.

TWO RATS APIECE

There are more rats than human beings in this country. This startling information comes from the department of agriculture. Further facts are that each of us supports two or three of these rodents, that the country's rat population costs the public $200,000,000 a year to feed, and additional sums through disease and property damage.

Haphazard trapping and poisoning are not sufficient measures to combat this great pest. The department urges a systematic, organized, scientific campaign of extermination and publishes a booklet of instructions for going about such a war. Here is something which might well be made part of any annual clean-up drive.

It is fine to have our human population increasing in numbers and becoming longer-lived and healthier. But why encourage the competition of dirty and destructive rats?

THE ZOO

Come on, kids, let's go to the animal show; the one that is down in the zoo. We'll romp and we'll run and we sure can have fun. It's a thing I am aching to do.

Take hold of my hand and we shortly will land near the cage where the monkeys are squealing. I never have seen such a monkeylike scene. It's the first touch of summer they're feeling!

'Tis really to laugh at the long-necked giraffe, with his head stuck high in the air. Stand back from that cage. Mister wolf's in a rage and the sign on the bars says "Beware."

The lions are roaring! the bears are imploring the keeper to give them some meat. The elephant's away and seems to be saying, "I'm hungry. Say, where do we eat?"

The touch of the wild gives a thrill to a child, and there's nothing they'd much rather do than get to the howl! the squeal! and growl! that always is heard at the zoo.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE CAUSE OF GROWING PAINS

In order to avoid misunderstanding, let us take off from this substantial fact: It never hurts to grow. Even when growing becomes too excessive as to amount to a disease (for instance, in the condition physicians know as gigantism), the enormous growth is not painful. To call the aches and pains which some children complain of "growing pains" is therefore a mistake, quite as inexcusable as it is to ascribe some vague disturbance of health or undiagnosed disease to one's age. As for that, the truth of the matter is that children who actually grow the most rapidly are least likely to complain of these pains in the legs or arms. The majority of youngsters who suffer with "growing pains" being somewhat retarded in growth. This is rather to be expected, for the pains are in reality an expression of a disease condition which impairs nutrition and hampers growth.

In the few cases in children 2 or 3 years old these pains are caused by rickets. This is a nutritional disorder involving the whole system and not just the bones, and its prevention and cure call for (1) exposure of the skin to sunlight as much as possible, (2) sufficient exercise, and (3) undenatured food, that is, food which has not been robbed of its mineral content or its vitamins by processes of manufacture, refinement, preparation or preservation. From 10 to 20 drops of cod liver oil two or three times a day may be given to the child with any indication of rickets, as an effective way to supply the important fat soluble vitamin A.

Plain and liver oil in this way is a good remedy for these "growing pains."

Any complaint of such pains by a child should lead to a careful examination of the child's heart by the physician. In some cases the vague recurring pains are the only outward indication of a low grade tonsil infection which becomes the septic focus or source of that low grade septicemia or systemic infection popularly known as "rheumatism," and this type of infection seems to have a special affinity for the endothelial tissue or serous membrane which lines the joints and the heart. In such low grade septicemic infections involvement of a heart valve is as likely to happen as innerness or inflammation in any of the joints and is ordinarily a painless incident, often not suspected by the parents and perhaps not even brought to the attention of the physician unless by chance later in life. In a considerable share of all cases of valvular heart disease the damage is not recognized until long after its occurrence.

Any child with "growing pains" and tonsils and adenoids which are diseased or infected in the judgment of the physician should be operated on without delay or quibbling about the dangers of the operation or imaginary evils which come from the loss of these vestiges of useful organs. Although nearly any mail order or short cut healer in quest of patronage can suggest hypothetical uses or functions for the tonsils or the adenoid body in the human economy, on one who has any actual scientific knowledge or a rudimentary knowledge of physiology takes the vapors of these get trained quick charlatans seriously so far as any essential uses or functions of the tonsils, adenoid structure or appendix may be concerned. When these remnants trouble us we have them removed, if we are sensible.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Exercise and Grow—Lan-Fat.

Some people argue that strenuous exercises tend to strengthen the muscles and make a person fat, and I am taking exercises morning and evening to reduce. Please straighten me out on this question, as I certainly do not wish to get fatter. (Audrey.)

Answer.—Frat underdeveloped youths may gain some weight by means of general exercise. Those who are underdeveloped young men, from stores and offices gain an average of 10 or 12 pounds in the first few months in camp when they entered the army. But exercise certainly never makes fat folks fatter. On the contrary it can scarcely fail to make them thinner, provided they do not consume a greater amount of food.

Henry Ford Revives Scenes
Famous in Days of Washington and Others

Samuel E. Crowther, In Country Life. Two years ago Henry Ford bought the Wayside Inn at South Sudbury. Last February he held Neighbors' day at which he reopened the inn, restored, as far as human ingenuity can effect restoration, to the days when, as the Red Horse tavern, it sheltered George Washington, the Marquis de Lafayette and many another man who helped in some signal way to make the United States.

Mr. Ford has not only bought the inn, with the 90 acres that accompanied it, but he has bought up and down on both sides of the road and out into the surrounding country until he now owns about 1,600 acres, of which the inn forms the approximate center.

On this tract are some of the oldest houses in Massachusetts and the ruins of several ancient grist mills. This whole district will within a short time be as nearly as possible brought back to the condition it was in 200 years ago.

He has bought the fine Sanford and Congdon houses at North Kingston, R. I., and many restore them to their original condition or use them for sources of material for other restorations. He has bought an old inn near Dearborn, Mich., and is putting it back into its original shape.

He is an untiring collector of old furniture and old vehicles. He owns a Pilgrim's ox cart, several colonial coaches and stage coaches, and he can, whenever he likes, stage a parade of practically every kind of vehicle ever used in this country, from the rude ox cart to the finest high powered limousine.

Above all, Henry Ford reveres the pioneer spirit.

"This pioneer spirit," he said to me, "is what America has over and above any other country. If ever we lose that spirit, if ever we get to the point where a majority of the people are afraid to do things because no one before them has done them or because they are hard to do, then we shall stop going forward and start to go back."

"I deeply admire the men who founded this country, and I think we ought to know more about them and how they lived and the force and courage they had."

"Of course, we can read about them, but even if the account we are reading happens to be true, and often it is not, it cannot call up the full picture. The only way to show how our forefathers lived and to bring to mind what kind of people they were is to reconstruct, as nearly as possible, the exact conditions under which they lived."

"Then we can let the younger people—although it won't do the older ones any harm either—have a look at history as intimate and alive, instead of as something pressed dead within a book."

Q. Please describe the Union Jack of Great Britain. A. B. G.

A. The Union Jack of Great Britain is composed of three crosses, representing England, Scotland and Ireland. The Cross of St. George for England is a broad upright Latin cross, red on a white ground; the cross of St. Andrew for Scotland is a saltire or X-shaped, white on blue ground; the Cross of St. Patrick for Ireland is a red saltire on a white ground. When the union of the two crowns of England and Scotland took place upon the accession of James VI of Scotland to the English throne as James I, the flags of England and Scotland were united. The Union flag as it is now flown did not appear until 1801.

Q. Why are display clocks always set at 8:18? S. K.

A. The position of the hands of a clock is one which has been selected for the reason that it furnishes the greatest facility to meet the requirement for painting the longer name above the hands and the shorter word below. The minute hand has been varied in position from 17 to 25 minutes after eight. Sometimes the longer name requires to be written in a semi-circle above the hands. There have been stories connected with the death of Lincoln, that the position of the hands is commemorative of the hour of the death, but this is not true.

Q. Why doesn't an electric light bulb burst if it is a vacuum? A. C. S.

A. The glass shell of an electric light bulb is formed of sufficient thickness to give it proper strength to withstand the pressure of the atmosphere without collapsing, notwithstanding the vacuum within the bulb.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRECOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE, CARE TIME SECRET DRAWER, CONTINUED

My tears are falling fast, little Marquise, I can hardly see the page. I am just going to tell you that for the last few days I have been unhappy. I have found out that it is not the big troubles of life that hurt you beyond bearing, some way we are given superhuman strength to bear those. It is the little troubles that flay the heart with steel wire thread and cut to the innermost part of the soul.

Little Marquise, it seems to me as though I could never face the world again. I wish I were with Alice.

Letter From Sally Atherton to Beatrice Summers

Dear Bee: You have probably seen in the papers accounts of the sudden death of Alice Whitney. You couldn't have gotten from them, however, the most tragic aspect of the case, for the family was able to keep that out of the news.

Bee, Alice committed suicide. For a long time she had been acting very peculiarly. She had had fits of the most terrible jealousy of Leslie and Karl. When she was herself, however, she acknowledged that her suspicions were groundless and in the last letters that she wrote, for although her death was sudden she had been contemplating it for a long while, she said, "I have at times an irresistible impulse to torture and even kill the ones I love best."

I think she was very brave to do what she did. I think the knowledge that one is going mad is the only excuse that one might give for taking one's own life.

What I want to get off my chest are the unaccountable actions of John Alden Prescott through all this terrible time. Bee, that selfish bundle of conceit was out of town when the thing happened and he stayed away and let Leslie go through all the worry and grief alone.

He pretended that if he did not stay over to a certain meeting of his old firm he would lose several thousand dollars. He couldn't put that over me, I knew exactly how the balance of I had been there all the while. It struck me rather funny as well that J. A. P. should be counting his dollars now of all times when he was stepping into a fifty thousand a year job—he who had always thrown money to the birds and spent it in other ways so lavishly.

These tests are being held preparatory to the awarding of badges at the annual court of awards which will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening, May 14 at Elk hall.

Sydney Carton was with him when Leslie sent him the telegram and Mr. Prescott persuaded Carton to come over in his stead. Mr. Carton came and I will tell you Bee, I felt sorry for the poor man. Although I knew he did not undertake the thankless job solely for the sake of John Prescott.

I wonder that no one including Leslie herself sees that Sydney Carton is hopelessly in love with her. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.) TOMORROW: This letter continued.

A HOME WITHOUT CHILDREN

Lacks the Greatest Joys of Life
Many Wives are Childless Because of Ill Health. Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Mrs. Benedict

Wash. and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my teens until I started taking the Vegetable Compound. —MRS. MARY R. Has a Beautiful Baby Girl Now Bridport, Vermont. — "In the first place I wanted a baby, but none seemed to come to me. I just love children and my husband is away all day, so I was not happy at all. A doctor told me I could not have a baby until I went to a hospital. But my sisters said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you will be O.K.' I was nervous, had organic weakness, with backache, headache, dizziness and no strength. I began taking the Vegetable Compound. It was all that ever helped me and I just wish you could see my beautiful baby girl. I am fine now, and so is she. I am still taking the medicine as it keeps me well. You may be sure I am recommending the Vegetable Compound and always will." —Mrs. A. W. Howe, Bridport, Vermont.

This is Alabastine Time

Better than Kalsomine Cheaper than Paint

ALL walls become soiled. A fresh, new coat of Alabastine costs little more than cleaning paint or paper and gives you a brand new wall.
Kalsomine rubs off. It is not durable like Alabastine, which, properly applied, won't rub off.
If you want the most artistic walls, if you want durable walls matching rugs and furniture and harmonizing with the character of your home, if you have a definite taste in color which you wish reflected by the walls of your home—there is nothing else for it but Alabastine. Substitutes won't do.
It won't rub off
Alabastine—a dry powder in white and tints. Packed in 5-pound packages, ready for use by mixing with cold or warm water. Full directions on every package. Apply with an ordinary wall brush. Suitable for all interior surfaces—plaster, wall board, brick, cement or canvas.
To get genuine Alabastine results, be sure that the package is plainly marked with the Cross and Circle printed in red. Ask your dealer for the Alabastine colorcard or write to Miss Ruby Brandon, Home Betterment Specialist, the Alabastine Company, Grand Rapids, Mich., giving your address, so that she can send you the latest advice regarding color schemes.

This is Alabastine time—time to remove the soot and soil of winter, for refreshing your home. Do it well with Alabastine. You can do the work yourself if a decorator is not available at the time you want him.

ZONE LAW MAY BE ADOPTED BY CITY COUNCILAttorney Instructed to Prepare Resolution for Aldermanic Action

Kaukauna—The advantage of a building code in Kaukauna was discussed at the monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening in the council rooms. The subject was brought up by Alderman William Desnoyer who declared this city is large enough to adopt an ordinance which will require prospective builders to secure permits from the city and which will restrict them in certain sections of the city from building "any old thing" that may develop into a fire trap. The city attorney was requested to prepare a resolution on the subject.

Among the monthly bills of the city was a claim from Lester Welter for $53, the amount of the damage caused to his auto when he crashed into the bridge gates of Lawrence street. The accident occurred on or about April 20. Welter is said to have stopped but started again when he saw the bridge tender waving his hand, a signal which he interpreted as motion to proceed, but which in reality was a warning to stop. Welter had barely started when the gates shut and the car rammed into them, knocking one of the gates entirely off its post.

The board of public works had recommended the bill be disallowed and its action was approved by the council.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the board of public works to advertise for bids for paving Wisconsin-ave from the west line of Diederich-st to the west line of Black-st. The block was left unpaved last year, although a petition was circulated among the property owners to have the work done then. Bids will be received for vibroblasted cement, concrete, asphalt and reinforced cement. A resolution ordering sewers and water mains installed on a few north side streets was passed and the board of public works was authorized to advertise for bids although Mayor C. E. Raughter declared he would sign no order authorizing the work. The streets in question are Desnoyer-st. from Walnut-st. to Seymour-st. and Desnoyer-st. from Desnoyer-st. to Lawrence-st. A petition of property owners in that section was brought before the council at a previous meeting.

An $88,000 issue of bridge bonds was ordered sold to Wells Dickey Co. of Minneapolis, Minn., for $8,616. Bids were opened by the mayor and city clerk last Thursday afternoon.

FOUR ENTERED IN SPEAKING TILTSKaukauna High School Represented in District Contests in Oshkosh

Kaukauna—A large number of Kaukauna high school students are expected to go to Oshkosh Friday to attend the district oratorical and declamatory contests. Kaukauna has a representative in each event and hopes are running high that one or both will survive to enter the state contest. In addition two students will compete in the district extemporaneous speaking competition which takes place the same day.

Carl Grimm and Roy Darling will represent the school in that event. This is the first time in the history of the school that students have gone in for extemporaneous speaking. Joseph Dayorgon will speak for this city in the oratorical contest Friday afternoon. His oration, "The Sacrifice that Failed," won second place for him in all events up to this time. It will be necessary for him to win first place, however, in the Oshkosh event as only the winners of first place will compete in the state contest.

In the declamatory competition the Orange and Black will be represented by Miss Edna Sager, a junior, who has won first place consistently although this is her first year in declamation. Her selection is entitled "A Pair of Shoes."

Grimm and Darling have also been entered in the Lawrence college extemporaneous contest which takes place Friday, May 22.

CHIEF SCORNS
JOB OF CITY
DOG CATCHER

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The local chief of police, Andrew Lueck, refused to be made the butt of any "doggy" propositions, at the council meeting on Tuesday night.

The honorable body had a heated discussion on the stray dog question. Something must be done, they agreed, to keep stray canines from running amok, as numerous complainants stated they were doing. And so the city fathers informed Chief Lueck that he should catch a few dogs and pound them. His answer was "That's not my job. I'm no dog-catcher!" And so there may be a new job, that of dog-catcher, in the city before long.

CITY PROTESTS
CHANGE IN LAW
ON BANK TAXESCouncil Notifies Legislators
It Opposes Stock Taxation
on Income Basis

New London—City engineer Caudy, of Ripon, addressed the city council at its meeting Tuesday evening, on the advisability of laying a concrete sewer to complete the project undertaken on Oshkosh-st.

"You could satisfactorily use 24-inch brick sewer pipe, and it would be very good," he said, "but for good all-around, economical pipe, I would recommend concrete, reinforced with wire mesh."

"I would also recommend your using the remainder of your old pipe, up as for the outer section, thus saving the expense of buying new pipe for that section of the sewer."

No action was taken by the council on this matter.

BIDS RECEIVED

Two bids were received for the painting of the stand-pipe. One from Mr. M. C. Faul, quoted $150, for paint and labor. The other, submitted by Ralph Wyman, figured $140 for paint and labor, and $130 for labor alone. He received the job at $130, the city to furnish paint and all necessary equipment.

The city's concrete mixer was rented to the Hamilton Canning Co. at a cost of $10 per day, for use in construction of the company's new addition.

The second petition of Wm. Anson for sidewalk at his property on East Spring-st, was referred to the Board of Public Works. A petition for sprinkling on Dorset, between Spring and Cook-sts, was granted.

CLOSE ALLEY

The alley just east of the Emanuel Lutheran church property, which has been vacated by the city for some time, was definitely closed, and turned over to adjoining property owners for use in any way which they may see fit.

A telephone will be installed in the rooms of the police department and jail, in the city hall.

Two bids for city printing were received, one from each of the local newspapers. The Republican's bid was as follows: for publishing proceedings of city council—$25 per folio, with 8 per cent discount for cash with 15 days; for publishing of other proceedings and notices, 25c per folio, subject to a cash discount of 2 per cent with 10 days; job printing at regular rates.

The bid of the Press was: for council proceedings, 25c per folio; Notices—10c line; job printing—at regular rates.

AWARD CONTRACT

The Republican was awarded the contract for printing all city business, notices, proceedings, etc., and will be the official city paper for the ensuing year.

Upon receipt of a communication from the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, urging that the city send a protest against the pending bank tax bill, which provides for taxing bank stock on an income tax basis, instead of the former ad valorem basis, the council authorized a protest to be sent to the state senator, stating that the city was opposed to the bill, and favored the present system of bank stock taxation.

LAWS CONFLICT

Upon investigation, it was found that the city has two ordinances that have to deal with the muzzling and "running rights" of dogs, but that both are in opposition to the present state statutes, having been established before the statutes. An ordinance which will comply with the state laws will be drawn up.

Bids for concrete and vitrified tile sewer pipe will be received by the city up until 8 o'clock on the evening of May 11.

Nassau-st. between Warren and Jennings-sts., will again be opened to traffic.

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The Rev. F. S. Dayton, instructor in science in the local high school, addressed the students during the assembly period on Tuesday, on the subject, "Taking Inventory."

"We are drawing very near to the close of the year," said Mr. Dayton, "and the books that were opened in the beginning of the year are going to be balanced up, and the profit and loss accounts checked over. Many of us do so much wandering that we may not have stopped to take inventory of our works, which after all, are the chief item of interest in school."

"The seniors' chief question is am I going to graduate? The rest of us lower down are not so much interested in the graduating end of it, but are wondering if we are going to have any 'funks'."

"That's about as far as one inventory goes. But how often do we stop to think of where we are going—what we are going to school for, and what we are going to do after we're through? True, education is an important thing as a lot more than just mere stuffings, but we ought to be applying it along some certain line, with a definite end in view."

"The chief trouble with us today is that we're starting going, but don't know what we're going to do with our education after we've got it! Let's get started and know where we're going and what we're going to do, and we'll all be much further ahead in the end!"

WAUPACA COURT SETS FIVE FREE IN ONE SESSION

Machinery Grinds Swiftly—LaValley Jury Is Chosen and Case Is Begun

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Circuit court for Waupaca in session here with Judge Byron B. Parks presiding, worked rapidly Monday. In the case of the state vs. George Rice on charge of abandonment, the defendant was discharged. The following were also discharged: Thomas Thompson for resisting an officer while making an arrest; Fred Minton, who was charged with criminal conspiracy; Ray Wilson with abandonment; Melvin G. Smith, Weyauwega, charged with hunting ducks after sunset. All these cases were dropped for one cause or another.

The following cases were continued: Bernie Paulson for abandonment; Benoni Bjornson, charged with illegal possession of liquor; Clarence Barr charged with abandonment; Henry Preuss charged with embezzlement; Le Roy Thede charged with a statutory offense.

In the case of the state vs. O. E. Frihart charged with violating liquor laws, the court granted a change of venue to the circuit court of Fond du Lac. Frank B. Kecke of Oshkosh, is representing the defendant in this case, which was thrown out of court at the last session on account of a technicality in the wording of the charge.

Tuesday morning the jury reported at the opening of the court and the case of Arthur LaValley on a statutory charge concerning a young girl was the first to come before the jury. A panel of 25 was drawn from the list and by noon seven women and five men were chosen to try the case. The following were those chosen: Nora Bozile, Emeline Quimby, Steve Carrol, Bessie Holman, Edwin Slater, Chancy Williams, Robert Zemple, Oscar Johnson, Alice Bucknell, Agnes Walrath, Adeline Schneider and Anna Mallory. This case was tried in the same court a year ago and resulted in a no decision disagreement by the jury. At that time the defendant was represented by Attorney L. D. Smith of this city and Attorney Martin of Green Bay. However, Attorney Smith is representing the defendant alone and the district attorney is assisted by B. R. Giggins of Clintonville. The case will probably consume the attention of the court for two or three days.

The C. W. Nelson residence on S Division st. has been purchased by James Dance of the Central Wisconsin Seed company. A. C. Galloway real estate agency of this city completed the deal. Mr. Galloway also sold a $25,000 apartment building in Chicago this week for a Wisconsin client.

Marriage licenses issued for Waupaca for the week ending May 5 were as follows: Royal D. Fisher, Waupaca, to Ida Favel, Waupaca; Gordon Boyer, Big Falls, to Minnie Hanson, Tigerton; Gilbert Freeman Whitney, Weyauwega, to Edith Boisford, Weyauwega.

Monday night the East Central Wisconsin Barbers association met at the city hall in this city. Three members of the state barber examining board were present and delivered addresses pertaining to the welfare of the public in regard to sanitation and other important features of the barber business.

Bebe Daniels in her second starring picture of Paramount's Justly-Famous Forty, "Miss Bluebeard," an adaptation of Avery Hopwood's Broadway stage success, "Little Miss Bluebeard," is supported by an ideal cast of players—a cast true-to-type in every sense of the word.

The picture which opens a two days' run tomorrow at the Appleton Theatre, was directed by Frank Tuttle. Townsend Martin wrote the screen play.

Raymond Griffith (remember him in "Changing Husbands") has a comical role as the Hon. Bertie Bird who does his best to straighten things out for the star and other principals in this merry little marriage mix-up only to mess things up all the more.

Robert Frazer is leading man opposite Miss Daniels. He has the role of a woman-hating young composer. He has met Colette (Bebe) only once in his life—and the second time she is introduced to him as his wife. What's it all about? That's where the laughs come in in "Miss Bluebeard."

YOU NOW HAVE CONTINUOUS MUSIC at Fischer's Appleton Theatre

Miss Helen E. Page, our regular organist will play from 2 to 4:15 in the afternoon and from 7 to 11 in the evening. Miss Page comes from Evanston, Illinois. She has had considerable experience playing the organ in theatres. She received her musical education in Chicago.

Mr. La Vahn Maesch, relief organist, will play from 4:30 to 7 P. M. Mr. Maesch is an Appleton young man who has studied organ and piano at Lawrence Conservatory of Music. He has been soloist for the Lawrence Glee Club and has had considerable experience playing in orchestras.

Monsieur LeCocq to his wife's end is one of the engrossing features of "The Redeeming Sin," a Vitaphone picture which comes to the New Bijou Theatre Thursday Friday and Saturday. In this production Nazimova makes her debut as a Vitaphone star.

"The Redeeming Sin" is a picture of L. V. Jefferson's colorful story of the Paris underworld. "The Pearl of the Madonna," Lou Tellegen plays opposite Nazimova, and others in the cast are Carleton D. Miller, Otis Harlan, Rosita Marzani, Rose Tapley, Eric Mayne and Violet Virginia.

A realistic fight among the Apaches in the Paris sewers is one of the startling highlights in a picture that abounds in thrills. The famous sewers, with boats operating through the passages, are depicted with remarkable fidelity to the graphic descriptions given by Victor Hugo and other French novelists.

"QUO VADIS" GREAT CLASSIC OF FILMS
The motion picture world has produced but a few classics, yet those which have been staged are destined to live on forever. Of these classics First National's "Quo Vadis," at the Elito theatre for the last time tonight is acknowledged to be the greatest.

It is unparalleled in the history of the motion picture art. "Quo Vadis" tells a dramatic story, Imperial Rome and a religious lesson, reveals the pageantry and passion of Imperial Rome and a religious lesson. It is a sensational and thrilling spectacle, and pictures historical events. It is the picture of the century.

"TESS" PICTURIZED BY METRO-GOLDWYN
"Tess of the D'Urbervilles," Thomas Hardy's novel which has become a love classic in literature, has been adapted to the screen by the Metro-Goldwyn company and will be shown at the Elito theatre on Thursday and Friday. It is the biggest production made so far by Marshal Neilan, and is said to provide for Blanche Sweet who plays Tess, the greatest role she has ever had.

The supporting cast includes Conrad Nagel, Stuart Holmes, George Fawcett and many others. It is a Louis B. Mayer presentation and was scenarized by Dorothy Farnum.

Wooden Ware Makers Note Slump in Business in Last Few Weeks

Manufacturers of household articles made of wood have noted a general lull in business during the last few weeks, although the year started with an unusually promising outlook. They blame the fact that the automobile has come to be regarded as a necessity by all classes of people who spend the money they used to invest in household necessities after the spring housecleaning, for cars, accessories, oil and gasoline.

Furniture and woodware factories still are running full blast here, but now are filling orders held over from earlier in the year, officials say. New orders are scarce, and as the factories here supply wholesalers and retailers all over the country, the slack season may be regarded as quite general.

ELECT DELEGATES TO FRATERNITY MEETING

Helena Koletzke, 27, Appleton, and Clara Thurman, Green Bay, have been elected to represent the Lawrence chapter of Theta Sigma Phi at the annual national convention of the group, to be held at Seattle, Washington, June 24 to 27.

DENTISTS WILL TAKE SERVICES TO COUNTRY

Supplying dentistry to the small towns that have none is the plan adopted by the Union Dentists of this city. Dr. Thomas A. Murphy of the Appleton office and Dr. Monte Wentworth of the Green Bay office, will place two automobiles in service in a few days to carry out this idea. They will cover three counties in their work, receiving patients at hotels in various villages. A girl helper will accompany the dentists on each trip.

Solved the Problem

"I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about May's Wonderful Remedy, and it has solved the problem. As I can now eat anything and have no distress." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Magnificent Ceremony To Take Place At Depere

An ecclesiastical event, the first of its kind in the history of Wisconsin, will be commemorated at St. Joseph Catholic church in West De Pere on May 27, when the monastery of the Premonstratensian order is raised to an abbey, and its head, the Rev. P. H. Pennings, is elevated to the rank of abbot, the only abbot of the order in America.

The pontifical ceremonies which will attract national attention, will be conducted by the Right Rev. Bishop P. P. Rhode of the Green Bay diocese. Church dignitaries from three states and the larger cities in Wisconsin have been invited to attend.

The honor to be bestowed upon the Premonstratensian order and its prior, comes after 32 years of service. Upon becoming an abbot the prior of the order will be one of the 19 abbots in the United States, the only one of that order, however.

The ceremony of the occasion will center around the prospective abbot. It will differ slightly from that of a bishop's consecration; the ceremonial robes will be of greater splendor, some of them having been especially sent from Rome, and the religious pomp will be more outstanding, according to members of the order.

BANKER SUBSCRIBES TO ESSAY CONTEST FUND

M. A. Schuh, cashier of Appleton State bank, is the first banker of Outagamie-co to subscribe to the essay contest fund of the Wisconsin Manufacturers association. The purpose of this fund will be to defray the expenses of the two county winners and their chaperone to the state fair and Wisconsin products exposition in Milwaukee next September.

The essay contest is a small but important part of the plan of the association to make the products exposition one of the greatest and most successful in history, for which purpose fully a quarter of a million dollars will be expended.

A total of 213 contest winners and chaperones will spend two days in Milwaukee, and all their expenses will be paid by the association. The sum required for this purpose will be considerable, and the association is depending on the merchants of the state for contributions.

WHITING BUYS ATHLETIC FIELD FOR LAWRENCE

STADIUM WILL BE NAMED FOR PAPER MAGNATE

College Trustees Announce Splendid Gift from Neenah Millionaire

George A. Whiting, millionaire Neenah paper manufacturer, has given Lawrence college a check to pay for the new athletic field which is being constructed south of John-st. It was announced Tuesday afternoon by the trustees of the college. The track contains 17 acres and is now being prepared for Lawrence athletic teams. The stadium will be known as the George A. Whiting Athletic Field. It was announced by the trustees. The amount of the gift was not made public.

College authorities will convert the field into one of the finest memorials in the Lawrence area. It was said. The football field, now being prepared, will rank among the best in the midwest and the field is large enough to include a splendid running track and a baseball diamond. A field house to cost approximately $3,500 will be erected on the property.

PORTABLE BLEACHERS
About 12 acres of the tract is table land and the remainder is in a ravine. Arrangements are being made to provide parking space for thousands of automobiles close to the football field. A cyclone fence, about eight feet high, will enclose the property.

Portable bleachers are to be erected in the field. Trustees decided against the permanent stadium, partly because of the cost, and it is believed that bleachers capable of seating eight or ten thousand people will be adequate. The bleachers can be taken down at the end of the playing season and stored indoors.

The running track is almost ready for use and the football field will be available next fall. A few more weeks is required to put the playing field in first class condition.

NOTED PAPERMAKER
Mr. Whiting, donor of the property, is one of the best known paper manufacturers in the country and is noted for his generosity. He is president of the George A. Whiting Paper Co., president of the Whiting-Plover Paper Co. and has other extensive interests. The new Whiting hotel at Stevens Point was named for him because of his generous subscription to the building fund.

Mr. Whiting is a native of Ripon, Wis., and he received his education in the public schools of that city. His first job was clerking in a grocery store for $2 a month and his "keep" but at a nearly age he resolved to be a success in life and he kept doggedly at his purpose. His maxim was always to save a little and at the age of 26 years he had accumulated $176. This he invested in a small papermill at Neenah and from that tiny investment grew his immense holdings of today.

THINK AND WORK
"There is no such thing as luck as a factor in making success of one's life," Mr. Whiting told a newspaper man in St. Petersburg, Fla., about six weeks ago while he was visiting in the Sunshine City. "Any young man can become a success, build up a fortune and still enjoy the finer things of life, which money cannot purchase, if he will work hard and think hard," he said. "Work, and deep sound thinking make genius. Work without thought spells failure; using the brains to think without working out the result of those thoughts spells failure; but the union of thought and work spells success."

Mr. Whiting, now in his seventy-sixth year, has two hobbies—music and flowers—and he loves the best in both. His home is noted for its beautiful gardens and he delights in splendid music. He gave expression to his love for music when he presented the Baptist church with a splendid pipe organ which recently was dedicated.

Find What Causes Stench Of Canals

By Associated Press
Rotterdam, Holland—An American once said that he could face any death except by drowning in a Dutch canal, and indeed the offensive smells from many of these canals often make foreign visitors wonder how the natives can bear to live in such a perpetual stench.

These objectionable odors have now been traced to the presence in the water of a hitherto unknown micro-organism which its Dutch discoverer, Dr. L. Ellen, describes in the German Biological Journal. He has named this organism the vibrio thermodesulfuricans. He explains the vibrio needs oxygen for its existence and describes how, by chemical action, it liberates the sulphuretted hydrogen which pollutes the atmosphere of many an otherwise attractive and picturesque Dutch town, especially in warm summers.

According to Dr. Ellen's experiments, these bacteria thrive best in a temperature exceeding 10 degrees Fahrenheit and are still active at 290 degrees, as well as during the hardest frost.

Ben Goetz returned Tuesday to his home at Cadott, after spending the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Voeks, 715 E. Pacific. Miss Helen Goetz, who accompanied him here from Cadott, will remain at the Voeks home for the summer.

FIVE CRATES OF CHICKS ARRIVE AT POSTOFFICE

Five crates of day-old chicks were received at the postoffice Wednesday morning for delivery in Appleton and the vicinity. The number of chicks shipped every spring is increasing, because chicken fanciers find it more economical and profitable to buy chicks than to hatch them in small numbers.

The chicks are shipped in heavy cardboard cartons each containing from 50 to 120 baby chicks, which are not fed until they arrive at their destination.

SEVEN WANT TO BE APPOINTED BOSS OF STREETS

Council Considers Applications for Appointment as Street Commissioner

Employment of a street commissioner in accordance with the suggestion of Mayor John Goodland will be the principal question before the city council at its first May meeting at 7:30 Wednesday night. This matter, together with questions arising from the great increase in the number of automobiles, is expected to occupy the greater part of the council's time, but several other matters of importance also are on the schedule.

Seven candidates have applied for the position of street commissioner. The regulation of parking space in the business section has been a growing problem for several years, but the number of automobiles now is so great that definite action has become an absolute necessity, in the opinion of the council. Opposition of the park board to permitting the city to use Alicia park as a tourist camp after this season has brought up the question of providing another camp as soon as possible. It has been suggested that a private individual be induced to operate a camp, charging a fee for the use of facilities and deriving his chief revenue from the sale of tourists' necessities.

No definite plan for taking care of automobile tourists has been suggested, however, and the council may be unable to reach a decision at Wednesday's meeting.

The erection of a tool house for the street department is scheduled for discussion, together with other matters regarding the same department.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bismarck Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bismarck Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bismarck Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

Noted Harpist Is Soloist For Minneapolis Orchestra

One of the pleasing features of the concert to be played here next Wednesday evening by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra as the final number of Community Artist series will be the solos by Henry J. Williams, harpist for the orchestra. The concert will be played in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

And almost goes without saying that Henry J. Williams, solo harpist of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is a Welshman. From time immemorial, the harp has been practically the sole property of the Welsh. Whether its origin was in Wales is a much discussed question. The fact remains that a Welshman plays a harp almost instinctively as a Frenchman the wood winds or a Dutchman the 'cello. The deep emotions of a Welshman seem to best find expression in the strains of the ancient instrument. And Mr. Williams has done much to fix his favorite instrument as distinctively Welsh.

"Jimmie," as he is known to his friends, had a rather hard time of it at the start of his career, for he was the youngest of a large family of children, all of them musical, and all of them of course, determined to play the harp. In fact, the Williams family had two instruments, but little "Jimmie" got few opportunities to test his natural ability. Instead, he was slated to play the violin, which he did very dutifully, surreptitiously trying to master the harp as well. Only after the older brothers and sisters left home did he have a real chance with his pet instrument.

So rapidly did he develop that he soon discarded the violin, and entered the Royal Academy of Music in London, under John Thomas, harpist to the late Queen Victoria and King Edward. Graduating with honors, he became member of Sir Henry Wood's Orchestra in London. Between seasons he became a great favorite as recitalist in Scotland and Wales as well. His first visit to America so impressed him that he concluded to remain here. Since 1908 he has served as first harpist of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

PREPARE CONTRACT TO EQUIP JUNIOR SCHOOLS

Contracts now are being drawn up by the board of public works for the equipment of the two new junior high schools and the Fourth ward school addition. Bids were accepted from 37 firms, and as all bids must be made in duplicate, this entails a considerable amount of work. The contract blanks are completed, but the items to be purchased from each bidder must be inscribed on the proper form. Each contract then is signed by the mayor and the city clerk, and then forwarded to the successful bidder. The work of preparing the contracts is being done in the office of E. L. Williams, city clerk, who also is clerk of the board of public works.

BACK AUTO FEES PAY CLERK COSTS

State Has Collected $49,000 in License Fees Unpaid in 1924

By Associated Press
Madison—Fees collected from delinquent motorists during the past four months will nearly pay for the clerical work thus far connected with the registration of automobiles this year. It was announced at the office of Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman.

The automobile registration department has collected $48,354.59 during the past four months in fees due during 1924. The money was collected chiefly from automobile owners who failed to obtain licenses for their cars last year or who failed to pay the $1 fee for transfer of ownership.

Every application for a motor vehicle license is checked in the secretary of state's office. If it is found that persons had automobiles or trucks which they failed to register last year or in any previous year, a 1924 license fee payment is required. If an automobile has been transferred from one person to another without the transfer having been recorded with the secretary of state, the $1 transfer fee is collected.

During April, $15,240.71 in delinquent fees was collected this sum included $1,312.71 for automobiles, $748.75 for trucks, $10.50 for motorcycles, $15.75 for registration, and $13,841 for transfers. The delinquent fees collected during the other months this year were: January, $9,905; February, $13,104.13; March, $9,904.75.

While the 1924 fees collected this year will not pay the total cost of clerical work for the registration of all automobiles, it was stated, the sum will pay for the clerical work thus far. The total cost of issuing automobile licenses for 1925 is expected to be slightly in excess of $55,000, the cost of the work during 1924.

NEENAH THANKS MENASHA FOR SENDING HELP

Mayor Sande's Letter of Appreciation Read at Meeting of Council

Menasha—At the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening Mayor Rummel read a letter from Mayor Sande of Neenah in which Mayor Sande expressed his appreciation of the services rendered by the Menasha fire department in assisting to subdue a fire that threatened to wipe out a section of the business district of Neenah.

Alderman Fahrenkrug reported that the turn on Mill-st which could not be made by the new hook and ladder truck had been widened and remedied. Mayor Rummel said he had taken up with the railroad companies the matter of sidetracking freight cars, where they would interfere with the fire department making a run and that the companies agreed to see that the practice is discontinued.

DON'T SWAN SWIMMING
A petition signed by more than 40 taxpayers of Third-st asking that sprinkling be discontinued between Racine-st and Manitowoc-rd was granted. Permission was given several taxpayers for digging a well in the center of the block on Fourth-st, west of Tayco-st.

The matter of placing insurance on the fire apparatus was referred to the finance committee with instructions to report at the next meeting. The city clerk reported that the bonds of the various city officers had been approved by the city attorney. A license was granted to A. F. Stroel to sell non-intoxicating drinks at Leosher's place, adjoining the Bank of Menasha.

The treasurer's statement showed the balances in the various funds to be: General fund, $22,384.20; water and light, $12,073.58; board of education, $71,971.52; industrial $7,294.92; library, $24,039.76; firemen's pension, $4,336.70; cemetery, $1,532.63; recreation, $2,335.50; grand total $207,015.08. City Attorney S. L. Spencer, addressed the council relative to the new highway law. Monthly bills were allowed. The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for painting the interior of the first floor of the city hall, the bids to be returnable at the next meeting.

BUY MORE SIGNS

The street committee was authorized to purchase several additional parking signs including two slow down signs for dangerous corners. The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for street sprinkling, the bids to be returnable at the meeting Tuesday, May 19.

The building of new sidewalks at the east end of the city in the Fourth ward was referred to the aldermen of that ward and the street committee. It was reported that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company had raised the grade several inches in certain places on Racine-st. The street committee was instructed to investigate the matter and bring in a report at the next meeting.

The rules were temporarily suspended and Mr. Dorn, who resides near the corner of Manitowoc and Park-st was given the floor. He said he had presented a petition for a new sidewalk to the council and he wanted to know if the sidewalk was to be built. The inquiry was followed by a lengthy discussion as to the conditions that prevail in that vicinity and the aldermen and the mayor decided to make an investigation Friday afternoon and come to some agreement as to the proper location of the street and sidewalk and come to some conclusion as to what action should be taken relative to ten petition.

The water and light committee was instructed to dispose of the pump taken out of municipals plant and report at the next meeting. Alderman Baldwin, who was instructed to investigate how many Menasha mothers were receiving widow's pensions reported 17. The amounts ranged from $10 to $40 per month.

COUNCIL VOTES DOWN BAND HELP

Aldermen Feel $1,500 Is Too Large a Sum to Pay for Music at This Time

Menasha—An appropriation of $1500 as Menasha's of financing the new Twin City band was turned down for the time being at the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening. Alderman F. O. Heckrodt reported that at the meeting of the committee of the whole a vote was taken and it was decided not to go into it at this time.

This does not mean that the council is opposed to the band for such is not the case. Mayor Rummel spoke in favor of it as did also several aldermen, but with the heavy appropriations made for improvements they did not see how they could finance it this year.

Alderman Rummel enumerated several improvements made this year which exceeded the appropriations in the budget. They included the new concrete drive in the city hall and the new concrete bridge at Brighton beach. He called attention also to an appropriation of $2300 for the recreation department.

Alderman Fahrenkrug thought that $1500 was quite a sum of money to put into music at this time and would go quite a ways in the purchase of a street flusher. He admitted he with the rest of the people enjoyed band concerts but he thought it a wise move of the council not to enter into this matter at this time.

Klondike-st Property Holders Want Assessment of Benefits and Damages

The city planning commission at a meeting in the city hall Tuesday evening heard the property owners on that street who are anxious to have it extended in a straight line from its present terminus to the city limits but in some cases it would mean that some property owners would have to donate a larger share of the land to the city for the road than others. The results of the Tuesday meeting will be brought before the meeting of the council Wednesday evening at which time some action will be taken.

And, speaking of "sex equality," Arthur Train, the writing lawyer, gives us some exceedingly interesting chapters on women jurors in his latest book, "On the Trail of the Bad Man" (Scribner's).

It seems that there have been women jurors since 1870, and these in the territory of Wyoming. In those

ARTHUR TRAIN

days of the high bicycle, tight corsets and bustles the idea was received by the dumbfounded eastern section of the United States like some strange myth.

But it was very real in the "bad country" where the women were determined to curb rampant lawlessness. The picture drawn by Train gives good support to Dr. Bousfield's theory that sex equality is obtainable when artificial views are discarded.

Thus, in the virgin bad country,
we find the first territorial legislature of Wyoming giving women equal rights as officeholders and voters.
And, it is recorded, the women of this hard-drinking, sun-toting country made good with a vigour that the London physician would be quick to applaud.

Train's book isn't all about the women of the jury. There is a lot about the lawyer and, while good-natured, there is no concealing of the barbs. Train knows what he is writing about. Long before he went to literature he had seen service at the bar. He bewails the horror with which the law receives new ideas and even common sense. The practice of using archaic and frequently bad precedents, just because they appear as decisions, is given a great deal of good-natured joshing.

If you are a lawyer or have much experience with them this book will amuse you. For it runs from lawyers to divorcees and to bad men—all handled with the "human interest" touch.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

IS AMERICAN FICTION BEING RUSSIANIZED?

Some weeks ago a man named Lewis Worthington Smith, writing in The Dearborn Independent, made the charge that American fiction is being Russianized.

The difference between Russian and American fiction, according to his line of argument, is the difference between two types of mind. The Russian is passive, expects to be crushed by fate; the American likes obstacles because he is confident he can overcome them. Hence Russian fiction is a fiction of fatalism, American fiction one of forward looking challenge to fate.

But, the argument went on, there is a tendency on the part of American writers to try to compress themselves into the mind-mold of the Russian, to try to write Russian novels instead of American novels, they are trying to fit Russian psychology into American conditions. And it was Mr.
Smith's idea that that can't be done.

NO CAUSE TO IMITATE

In which generalization of course he is right. Nothing would be more foolish than for Americans to imitate the Russians or the French or the English even. That was done for long years after America became a nation and that was the reason why for a long time America could not be said to have a literature of its own.
But is there a tendency on the part of American writers to try to compress themselves into the mind-mold of the Russians? It is always easy to make generalizations and Mr.
Smith in his article mentions no names. If he had given names of books and writers it would be possible to know exactly what he means. Big on the basis of a fairly wide reading of contemporary American fiction I fail to see that that fiction is being Russianized.

Undoubtedly occasionally an author does that kind of thing but to establish a thesis of that kind, Mr. Smith would have to show that it is the prevailing mode of American fiction—that about half of the characters in the average American novel commit suicide in disgust at life; that most of them fold their hands and bow their heads before the storms of life;
that they talk, talk, talk until it gives you a headache; that they rave and beat the air about what they would do and then sit down and don't do it.

WOULD BE LIE

That is quite a fair description of the typical Russian novel and in the hands of great writers like Dostoev-ski or Tolstoi or Turgenev it results in great literature but no man in his senses would want to apply the method to American fiction because the truth for Russian would be a lie for American life.

It seems to me that the general tendency in American fiction is not only not one of fatalism and passivity but quite the reverse. Red-blood, brown, pug-nacity, the square jaw,
the he-man—those ideas troop through the pages of the American novel.

And I suspect it is because that kind of thing has been overdone and is being overdone that a few, a very few, in sheer overreaching and disgust with sameness are giving some color to the charge of Russianized American fiction. After all, there are other

Most Workers Like Task That

BY ELEANOR WING

Not so very long ago a man was called a sissy if he wore a wrist watch, read poetry, or drank tea in the afternoon! But public opinion changes firm hold on the right to change it mind, and consequently, today, we see most men wearing radiolite wrist watches, at least on the golf course; and we see many college boys becoming addicts of the tea habit; and we notice Yale making the study of "The New Spoon River" by Edgar Lee Masters a requirement of the freshman English course.

This latter revolution is important for several reasons. First, because, of course, the injection of poetry germs into freshman brain may mean an ultimate appreciation of the finer arts by the American educated populace, if the inoculation is given time to work; and provided that that populace is not entirely immune already.
And secondly, the move is important because Yale has openly and brazenly chosen the freest of free verse with which to begin its reform.

"The New Spoon River" published by Boni and Liveright is a complete telephone directory of names of the residents of Spoon River. It combines, however, a photographic bit of poetry to describe the soul of each inhabitant. And Mr. Masters has succeeded in painting a portrait gallery of the ordinary folks who might live in any small town. His descriptions are universal in their appeal and intensely humane.

All the evil, all the virtue and all the mediocrity which are the natural undercurrents in the life of any village are honestly painted. The spinster, the mother, the undertaker, the plumber, the sinner, the deacon

people in American than "go-getters" and "hemens," and an American fiction that presents only that kind of character is not true to the American scene either.

There are some who feel that any character in American fiction who does not belong to the Sons of the Revolution or to the Daughters of the Revolution is a sign of "foreign influence." But scores of millions of us who are true Americans have "foreign influence" in our veins and connot escape the "foreign psychology"
if we wanted to.

Commenting on the Smith article
the editor of the Dearborn Independent says "There is a maze of minds in our country." That being true, it follows that there will be a maze of types of fiction in our country.
That is as it should be and an occasional Russianized novel even in America is nothing to worry about.

and the powerful editor are traced in this panorama, are weighed dispa-sionately on the author's scale of justice.

Throughout the anthology, Masters is making a modern plea for appreciation of beauty. He has the same longing that Keats had for the exquisite, but he must make his appeal in the language of the moderns and with entire lack of emotionalism and sentimentalism. He despairs of the unseeing eyes of Spoon River and repeats in every conceivable way the fact that:

"There will come a time when crimes against culture will be punished the same as murder."

But the finest quality in all this poetry is its appeal to a nation of people. It is not narrow in its scope of theme, nor confined to Spoon River in its topics. One might meet these same people in any corner of America and find the same good and bad in each individual. Masters has even incorporated American-wide problems in his book—prohibition, the younger generation, women's freedom, government corruption, capital and labor, graft all have their places.

And the epic touch is achieved
when the poet deals with the attitude of soldiers returned from the war.
He mixes all the sorrow of mothers whose sons died in vain; all the anger of fathers who gave their sons lives and received money payment, and all the bewilderment of a nation which thought it was fighting for a principle and discovered that it had been duped—in these few lines.

The Unknown Soldier
"Stranger! Tell the people of Spoon River two things:

First, that we lie here obeying their words;
And next that had we known what we back of their words
We should not be lying here."

BOOKS AND BOOK MEN

A NEW NOVELIST

A young Australian, Dale Collins
by name, took ship aboard the "Speejacks," world-girdling yacht of a rich Ohioan, when that craft put into the Antipodes.

Reaching London he wrote a rather or colorful story of the trip, but stored up a great deal for future fiction.

Some of this he has released in a first novel, "Ordeal" (Knopf). It is one of those surprising first books, in which extraordinary capacity for strength is revealed, with promise of greater strength to follow.

"Ordeal" is a book which shows sophisticated, cultured people in full rout when taken away from their customary civilization. Better things, though different, have been done in this school of writing—for instance, Russell's "Where the Pavement Ends," and the more whimsical "The Admirable Crichton," of Barrie.

In Collins' book a party of wealthy, sophisticated folk are touring on the ship of a rich New Yorker when the craft becomes lost in the Pacific.
Thus they fall upon the mercy of Ted, a half-breed steward; a sneering, sniveling, villainous fellow who gains ascendancy over the crew through superior cunning and intelligence.

In a midnight fray Ted kills the first mate, a drug addict, and finds that he alone is able to "take the sun" and keep the ship's position.
The half-caste then enjoys delusions to grandeur to the extent of believing a young woman in the party could be infatuated with him.

Madness overtakes him in the end,
and finally he becomes shark food—both of which situations are among the weakest in the book.

Meanwhile there have been thrills aplenty, and some psychological studies that are varying in their skill. Some show Collins to be still quite young—28, or something like that, in fact—but it is amusing that dead, old lady Daly is the one who finally disposes of Ted. Because she is deaf she does not comprehend the half-breed's dominant commands and so, when the time comes, she orders him about his business and he humbly goes.

In the earlier parts of the book

Collins suffer slightly from "metaphoria" or fatty figure of speech. His figures, though good for the most part, pile upon each other too fast.
But Collins will bear watching. He will write good sex stuff, and in time —big.

OLD AND NEW

The recipe for "Stella Nash" (Houghton Mifflin) is not a particularly new one. It goes something like this: vast treasure somewhere in Africa; a buried city; perils galore and as many escapes; a girl and a hero and final triumph.

But this book, in spite of some standardization of plot, is greatly aided by the author's knowledge of Africa. It is written under the nom-de plume of "Ganpat," a sobriquet taken from a certain elephant-headed deity. This "Ganpat"—otherwise M. L. A. Gompertz—is able to lift a great deal of local color from his rich African experiences and thus give his background a sense of reality.

INDUSTRY UPPERMOST

Differing from Henle in style, method, and type of protagonist, Walter Gilkerson, another first-timer, has written "Oil" (Scribner's). Here the principal character is not an individual but an industry.

The treatment is heavy in an attempt to develop a vigor. The latter is here, but it is crude.
With more experience in writing, Gilkerson undoubtedly will develop more subtlety. But, although this is lacking, his story is good enough to be absorbing. And that, after all, is the chief demand made by many readers.

APPLETON HIGHS START CLASS MEET ON THURSDAY

Orange Track Squad For Conference Contests To Be Picked From Winners

Seniors Favored to Win Class Competition With Sophs and Frosh Next

Appleton high school trackmen will go through their paces for the first time on Thursday afternoon in preparation for the valley conference meet here on May 16. Part of the Orange Interclass track meet will be held on Thursday. Because of several conflicting dates the meet will have to be held in the afternoons after school until completed. The college track squad has Lawrence field for meets every Saturday until May 15 and Kevin must get a line on his representatives in the conference meet before that time. On Friday he will attend a meeting of conference representatives at Sheboygan so that the meet probably will have to be concluded early next week.

The seniors with the pick of the track team, and the sophs with a number of promising men from last year are favored for the big battle, but the frosh may upset the odds. Several members of the class of 1923 have been going good lately. The sprinters will be the big event of the meet with Capt. Nora "Gunner" Johnston, Lee, Stammer, Zschaeche, Duffner, Roemer, and Rooney all going good. Duffner and Zschaeche, new additions to the squad, have been the surprise of the last week, and both will give the vet dashmen plenty of competition for places on the school's relay team. Other men expected to put up winning exhibitions in the class meet are Ashman weights; Strutz, javelin; Johnston weights and broad jump; Schultz, distance man. New material brought out by the meet is expected to put the Kevinmen near the top in the big meet on May 16. Though the Orange has only Capt. Johnston conference 440-yard dash record holder from last year's team, to compete against several vets of the second and third place teams from last year the local boys should finish high as they won over the field by a 29-point margin in 1924.

LAST BATTLE IN MADISON GARDEN

Terris Beats Dundee in Last Entertainment in Historic Building

New York—Madison Square Garden, for three decades the scene of big sporting events and public assemblages, has sung its swan song. A turbulent throng of 13,000 Tuesday night watched Sid Terris, youthful New York lightweight, outpoint the veteran Johnny Dundee in the building's farewell athletic event. The status of Diana airt the garden tower is to be lowered Wednesday as the wreckers begin to tear down the structure to make way for an office building. There was a roar of disapproval against the decision for Terris, as Dundee's plucky stand won him the favor of the audience.

Fight fans left the famous old building as a parting tap was played by a veteran army sergeant. The garden has treated New York to many a thrill. Among the knights of the roped square who traded punches under its roof were Sullivan, Fitzsimmons, Gans and Corbett, as well as the later day crop of Leonard, Britton, Willis, Dempsey, Firpo, Walker and Dundee.

The songs of Patti had echoed from its walls, and into its distant corridors had rung the speeches of William Jennings Bryan, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. Here were given annually for years the horse show, the circus and the six day bicycle race.

It was in the garden that Stanford White, its architect, was shot and killed by Harry K. Thaw, it was in the garden that the Democratic convention broke the record for deadlocks and Alabama and its votes for Underwood became famous.

CLASSY FIELD ENTERS MARQUETTE TRACK MEET

Milwaukee—More than 30 schools including many of the crack teams of the middlewestern Marquette University interstate high school relay carnival to be held in the new Marquette stadium here next Saturday.

Connie Jennings, Marquette track coach and gymnasium director, is in charge of the meet and he predicts for some of the closest races and fastest time in the history of prep athletics in this region.

The present entries include such well known aggregations as Washington high of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Dubuque, Ia. high; Oak Park, Morgan Park, Hyde Park, New Trier, Deerfield-Schiller, Lyons, St. Ignace, De La Salle and St. Rita, all of Chicago and vicinity, all Milwaukee public high schools, St. John's Military academy, St. Alban's of Seymour, Ill., Pio Nono, Marquette, Janesville, Kenosha, West Allie, Wauwatosa, Wauwatosa Aggies and others.

Denver, Colo.—Abbie Miskind, Salt Lake City lightweight, was awarded a decision over Jack Kane of Chicago, and Izzy Tanner, St. Paul welterweight, defeated "One Step" Watson, Omaha Negro.

OPENING LARK LOOP GAME HALTED BY RAIN

Jupiter Pluvius didn't approve of the opening game of the Lark League schedule Tuesday afternoon and even the prayers of several prominent Appleton business men left him unmoved, causing the cancellation of the game because of "wet grounds." Eddie Steward, a hardy Legionnaire, was ready to take the field against the roaring Lions when the skies began to leak and the Jones park diamond became a mud puddle. The result was the same as last year when the power had to be postponed for the same reason. The next regular game will bring the Kiwanis and Legion crews together at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

AND THEY SAY TYRUS COBB IS "SLOWING UP"

By Associated Press
Chicago—Ty Cobb, bery manager of the Detroit American who was playing in league baseball before some present day players were born has annexed one of his most brilliant world records—most total bases in one game, scored on three home runs, a double and two singles in six times at bat in the game Tuesday against St. Louis. Cobb is playing his twenty-first year in the majors. Thru his career, when the season opened, he has been hit by the flu but he has shown that his batting eye is undimmed. His three home runs in one game also ties the Major league record.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Well, the Lark leaguers hit a rain storm yesterday and failed to get started. Somebody has it in for the first game in that loop as the same thing happened last year, the first year of the league. A gang of enthusiastic business men hung around in cars waiting for the rain to stop so they could play "mudball" they were so anxious to play, but they were outa' luck. The rain stopped about 5:20 but the umpire couldn't find the bases unless he used a pump so the game was called on the grounds of wet grounds, as the ump said.

Ted Bleier, local high school athlete, visited former coach Dave Wilson at Illinois over weekend and watched his stuff. Ted may go to the Sucker school next year and with his flight, speed and build, should go big in the frosh line on the grid. Ted is a real line man and not a backfielder and with a little intensive coaching may make the varsity squad in two years.

Wilson had a squad of athletes out for "gym" training. His system is to put them in football suits and give them regular grid work every day. Real "gym" training, that'll have some football material from his gym classes next year with every man in every one of his groups knowing the feel of the piskin before hand. That's carrying real athletics into the gym and would bring out a record at tendance if tried in gym classes some schools.

Bullet Rosh and his Kellogg Corn Flakes team from Michigan is planning a Wisconsin invasion. The Wolverines will probably lock horns with a number of the State League clubs. Rosh formerly pitched and managed the Menasha Falls. He should be a big drawing card around this part of the state.

Mike Dempsey, former Canton baseballer, is the latest addition to the ranks of the Sheboygan Champs. He is credited with being a corking good first sacker and can also go behind the bat, if necessary. With the arrival of Dempsey, it will probably mean bench duty for Bartzon, a sweet hitter.

"Y" TWILIGHT TEAMS MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Final plans for the Y. M. C. A. Twilight League for 1925 will be made at a meeting of team representatives at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The most important decision will be on a four or six club loop. A four-club organization will play ball twice a week and a six-club group three times. A four-club circuit is assured by representatives of four teams and two others will be chosen if possible. The teams expected to join the league are Post-Crescents, Sheboygan, Bankers, and Mevor Press crews from last year and the Appleton Chalk. Co. and Y. M. C. A. squads, both new teams. The Knights of Pythias also may be represented at the meeting, practically assuring a six-club loop if it is desired.

APPLETON LADIES HIGH IN STATE LUTHERAN MEET

Two A. A. L. Women Teams Hit 2nd and 4th Places; Men Teams Fail

Appleton Lutheran women teams made the only changes in the standings of the first annual Lutheran bowling tournament being held in Sheboygan on Sunday. The men failed to hit their stride and did not get in the money division in any event but the women teams shot in to second and fourth places in the standings. Green Bay will take the drives Wednesday night and Milwaukee Sunday.

A. A. L. No. 1, Appleton Ladies took the second place honors with 1867 pins and A. A. L. Appleton Ladies No. 2 took fourth with 1790. Four Appleton mens teams competed and the members took part in the doubles and singles events. The local scores follow:

Baseball Simplified

By Billy Evans

When is the batsman automatically out on a third strike even though the catcher does not retain possession of the ball? The batsman is always out on a third strike regardless of whether the ball is caught, when there is a runner on first base and there are less than two out.

Before this rule was put into the playing code, the baserunner was at the mercy of a smart catcher. He would purposely drop the ball forcing the runner to advance and usually make a double play.

The present rule, with a runner on first and less than two out gives the baserunner proper protection, since the batsman is automatically out and no other play is possible unless the runner or runners seek to advance at their peril on the dropped third strike.

NEW LONDON BOOSTERS DROP FIRST GAME, 6-3

Playing a fine article of ball but hitting several tough breaks the New London Boosters lost their first game in a heavy slugfest match with the Bowler team Sunday. John Mayeski started for the Boosters with a 5-0 record. He pitched a nice game for New London in the pinches. F. Bohm, Bowler hurler was hit safely 9 times.

THEY FORM UNIQUE COMBINE

St. Louis.—Unlike other major league ball clubs, the St. Louis Cardinals have a six day-a-week manager and also one for Sundays. Branch Rickey is the former, and Burt Shotton, the latter. Rickey doesn't believe in plotting baseball teams on the Sabbath, so turns that job over to Shotton, his right-hand man. Both are former major league players.

Wisconsin High Schools Urged To Go In For Track

Marquette—Every effort is being made by the board of control of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association to stimulate and encourage track meets among its members, according to P. F. Neumann, secretary.

In addition to sanctioning several small meets throughout the state this spring, the board is encouraging all of the high schools to be represented at the annual Interscholastic meet to be held at Madison, May 23. Mr. Neumann said. "Every member school should plan to be represented at this meet," the secretary said. "This may be the last year in which every high school will be eligible for the state meet without previously competing in and having made at least a point in some section at meet. It is a fine thing for all high school students to get into personal touch with our state university and as much as the Interscholastic meet offers this opportunity, a large entry should result."

The 1924 meet attracted 486 competitors from 54 Wisconsin high schools. The meets have been growing in size the last few years and it is hoped that this year's entry will surpass that of last year by a large margin, although the competition is conducted by the University of Wisconsin, it is under the supervision of the W. I. A. A. and track rules of the W. I. A. A. will govern the details.

Events in the meet will include the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, 120 yard hurdles and 220 yard low hurdles, half mile and mile run, high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw, pole vault and half mile relay. Entertainment will be provided the athletes during their stay in Madison by the university. Reduced fare on the certificate plan has been arranged with the railroad companies. Individual medals and cups for the winning schools will be given.

"Y" BOYS IN DIVISION SWIMMING CONTESTS

Members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will participate in a swimming contest for the boys' championships in the various events at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the "Y" pool. Don Gebhardt, assistant physical director, will be in charge of the meet. The public is invited to attend.

The boys will be divided into two classes according to their known ability. By Mr. Gebhardt, giving every youngster a chance against more evenly-matched opponents. Class A is the highest class. The events for Class A contestants are 60 yard free style; 20 yard free style; 20 yard breast stroke; 20 yard back stroke; plunge diving and relay. The class B events will be the same with the exception of a 40 yard free style event in place of the class A 60 yard distance for this event.

DALE BALL CLUB GOES INTO ACTION SUNDAY

The recognized Dale baseball team, member of the county league last year, will play its first game of the season on Sunday when it meets the Omro crew on the Dale grounds. L. C. Pagel is manager of the team. The lineup which will see action Sunday is composed of L. Kuehn, catcher; C. Cannon, pitcher; E. Hunsicker, first base; E. Wollerman, second base; W. Tink, third base; H. Cannon, short stop; A. Will (captain), leftfield; H. Giebel, centerfield; R. Nutter, rightfield; G. Emmons and O. Hauk, substitutes.

New York—Make McGigue, world-light heavyweight champion, insured his hands for $50,000.

BLUES WORK HARD FOR TRACK MEET WITH OSHKOSH

Marks Set in Normal's Practice Contest Saturday Assure Real Scrap Here

With a 100-point victory over Stevens Point Normal behind them, Lawrence college track men are working hard for Saturday's meet with the crack Oshkosh Normal crew. Coach A. C. Denny has his men working hard and they show no overconfidence from the results of the Point meet. Part of this is due to the fine records set by the Sawdust city boys in the practice meet on Saturday, many of which were as good or better than those established here on the same day.

Captain Clow of the Normalites negotiated the high hurdles in 17 3/5 seconds, a trifle slower than Bruce of Stevens Point the winner here, but faster than the first Blue man who took second. Bloomquist ran the 440 yard dash in 53 2/5 seconds nearly a second faster than Capt. Reibeln, star of the Denny squad, and this event again will be the best of the afternoon. Oshkosh showed promise in the weights, but Lipke who copped all three events Saturday should take care of 15 points for the Blues in his events. Other events in which the Blues will face real competition are the dashes with Tom Williams, Besfordick and Lyons in the leading roles for Oshkosh and the jumps where Bob Williams and Leachy should star for the Sawdust city schoolers. Besfordick travelled 220 yards in 22 2/5 seconds as compared with 24 for Staur, best Lawrence sprinter, but the local boy was running against time and should go better in real competition. This race should rank with the best of the meet, however, and it would be no surprise to see the Oshkosh youth romp over the line ahead.

Triple Tie Continues As Three Leaders Are Whipped

New York.—The triple tie for first place honors in the American League persists Wednesday with Washington, Philadelphia and Cleveland all smarting under defeats.

While the New York Yankees backed out of their slump of five consecutive defeats and handed the aspiring Philadelphia Athletics an 8 to 4 trimming Tuesday, the Boston Americans were busily engaged in humbling the world champions in Washington to the tune of 2 to 4. Meantime the Chicago White Sox helped in the bud any prospects of the Cleveland Indians forgoing to the front by trimming them 7 to 2, thus maintaining the three cornered scramble for leadership over another day.

Ty Cobb opened a batting assault on the St. Louis Browns by driving out three home runs, a double and a brace of singles for a total of 16 bases, a new record for modern major league baseball with the Tigers winning in a walk, 14 to 8.

Cobb is now the leading batsman of both American and National leagues with an average of .531. The Phillies had a field day at the expense of three Giant pitchers and weakened the hold of the national league leaders on first place by registering a 13 to 5 victory.

In Boston Bureleigh Grimes allowed the Braves but six scattered hits and the Robins won 6 to 1.

Rain prevented the two other scheduled games in the National Tuesday. The Yankees Tuesday acquired outfielder, Bob Veach, and a pitcher, Alex Percussion of the Boston Red Sox, in return for Ray Francis, southpaw pitcher, and $8,000 in cash. Veach may take the outfield vacancy caused by the illness of Babe Ruth.

The Ruth family enjoyed a family reunion Tuesday at the New York hospital in which the home run champion and Mrs. Ruth are recovering from breakdowns.

USE ARMY BARRACKS TO CUT HOUSING SHORTAGE

Dublin—Empty British military barracks in the Free State are being largely used to diminish the housing shortage. Dublin barracks are being converted into dwelling classes, and this plan is being followed also in the provinces. The military barracks in Tipperary have been handed over by the government authorities to be used as dwellings for the townspeople.

A grant of $25,000 has been sanctioned from the unemployment fund, and this will be supplemented by a further grant to Tipperary of $7,500 from the housing act fund.

SAY BOBBING SCHOOLS CHARGE EXCESSIVE FEE

Los Angeles—Bobbed hair is responsible for at least one menace, according to the state labor department, through the establishment of so-called hair-bobbing schools. So many of these schools are operating in California and charging high fees for their instruction that legislation is sought to put them out of business, or else compel them to teach at least an elementary course in practical hair-cutting, said the department officials.

FORGING PAIR CASHED CHECKS IN TWO STATES

Elgin, Ill., Janesville and Watertown, Also Sought Mr. and Mrs. Leech

Operations of Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Leech, who are in the county jail awaiting trial for forging checks and passing them in stores, which are reaching Chief T. Prim of the police department. They probably will fare hard as the result of their operations, since warrants for their arrest await them at Oshkosh and Janesville.

Two checks were passed at Janesville and one in Watertown and these were sent here by the Janesville chief to determine if they were issued by the Leech couple. The handwriting is similar to the others and the amount of $14 used on all the others was on two of these. One was cashed at the J. C. Penney Co. store of Janesville. It amounted to $12.50 and here the name of Mrs. Jean Leech as payee and Henry Skope as the signer. It was a check of Wisconsin National bank Watertown. Another for $14 was cashed at the J. M. Bostwick & Sons store there for $14 payable to Mrs. Jean Leech and signed by G. W. Brandes. It also was drawn on the Watertown bank.

J. C. Penney Co. store at Watertown also was a victim of the pair. The check for $14 presented and accepted there was made out to Max Wornak and signed A. J. Mertz. It was drawn on the Commercial Exchange bank, Kenosha, indicating that they might have been operating in that city too. The Janesville police informed Chief Prim that a warrant would be issued there if the checks could be identified as being issued by the Leech couple.

Evidence against the forgers gained around when a letter reached Chief Prim Tuesday from the J. C. Penney Co., Elgin, Ill., enclosing a check for $14 which had been passed successfully there. This one was drawn on the American National bank, Aurora, Ill., and bore the name of Mrs. Florence Kern as payee and M. J. Shearn as signer. The handwriting again proved similar to the others and the Elgin authorities will be informed to that effect.

A warrant has been issued by the Oshkosh police for arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Leech on similar charges. Chief Arthur Gabbert and a saleswoman from New York Walst house, and Bert Nicol, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store and one of his clerks, all were here to identify Mrs. Leech as the one who passed the checks. Fond du Lac, Manitowish and Sheboygan stores of the J. C. Penney Co. also were victimized.

Mrs. Leech is charged with issuing false checks and Mr. Leech with being an accomplice. Written and blank checks were found in their possession when arrested here Wednesday of last week. Their hearing is set for next Saturday and they are confined in jail in default of furnishing the necessary bail.

The Fireside is the nucleus of the Home.

The fireplace has always, both in the past and fancy, been identified with the true home. It should be so constructed that it will contribute to the health, comfort and happiness of the family.

Of the mistakes commonly made in home building none is more frequent than faulty design and construction of chimneys and fireplaces. Bad chimney design results in discomfort for the home, danger to life and property, and much avoidable expense in heating the house.

Our Washington Information Bureau has for free distribution during Better Homes Week an illustrated booklet on how to build fireplaces and chimneys. It will give the prospective builder a working knowledge of the principles to be observed in planning and building these important parts of the home. Fill out the coupon below and send it in today, enclosing two cents in stamps for return post age.

Official Smellers Sniff Milk For Taint Of Garlic

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

Washington—The spring and the cows are beginning to eat garlic. The Agriculture Department is experimenting with ways to take the taste and smell of it out of milk and butter. "Garlic," comments the public health service, "is a wholesome vegetable." "Yes," admits the Agricultural Department, "but so many people object to dairy products flavored with it."

Meanwhile Washington milk retailers employ official sniffers to sniff at each bottle of milk before putting it on the market. If garlicy, back it goes to the farmer. Otherwise it would be left on the dealers' hands, for consumers won't have it at any price.

"Thank God," they're whispering among themselves at the State Department, "it was an English shipmaster, not an American, whose vessel was seized while all 28 of the crew of the Japanese cargo-boat Reifuku drowned in the North Atlantic. Officials are chary of saying anything about that might be construed as unfavorably critical of Captain John Roberts of the Homeric But there's no mistaking the way they feel."

"They're only Japs—let 'em drown." That's how Japan would have read the mind of an American commander who had such a story as Captain Roberts to tell. At all events, the State Department thinks so. Things of that kind count in international relationships.

It would look so much better if Captain Roberts had but a single rescue to his credit, in evidence of a resolute effort. Or if he could report having cruised for an hour over the lost ship's grave, looking for survivors, though at the risk of scratching his paint or even smashing a propeller blade on the wreckage. I've seen a captain delay a 5,000-ton vessel four and one-half times seven minutes trying to save a dog lost over-board.

The Pan American Union is passing stacks of queries from people who, if South America is going to develop during the next 50 years as the United States developed during the last 50, which is what General Pershing predicts, wants to get in on it. General Pershing, like most tourists who spend a couple of weeks finding out all about the southern republics, missed a few items of information. South of the Tropic of Capricorn there really is a vast area of fine unoccupied farm land, but the laws discourage its settlement. Farther north the laws are more liberal but much of the country is equatorial jungle, so thick that it has to be tunneled, rather than cut, through. And as fast as cleared, it grows up again. South America will develop, but nothing like as fast as this country.

FORESTERS WILL FETE BOWLING TEAM MEMBERS

A banquet for Catholic Order of Foresters bowling league members will be given by the Appleton court at 6:15, Tuesday evening, May 12, at the Catholic home. The banquet is for bowlers who took part in the league here and those who competed in the Fox River Valley Foresters league at Oshkosh.

The regular meeting will take place after the banquet and speaker of the court, L. O. Schweitzer, is arranging a program and a card tournament for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stipp of Neenah visited relatives in Appleton Tuesday evening.

DIETZLER FILES PLEA FOR PARDON

Convicted Slayer of Edwin Bedor May Have Hearing Before Governor

Henry Dietzler, sentenced by Judge Edgar V. Werner in January, 1924, to serve a four year sentence in the state penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to third degree manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Edwin R. Bedor, has filed application for pardon with Gov. J. J. Blaine. It was announced Wednesday. It is expected the governor will hear the application on June 3.

Dietzler was arrested in the town of Maine in September, 1923, when Bedor was shot at his "sugar slum" on the Wolf river. The injured man declared Dietzler shot him but the latter denied the charge. During the trial, however, he suddenly entered a plea of guilty to a charge of third degree manslaughter and he was given the maximum sentence of four years.

What Makes The Devils Car Go?

EGGS AT 10c A DOZEN!

"How much are your fresh eggs?" a customer asked a College Avenue grocer a few days ago.

"Thirty cents a dozen," he replied.

"You're too high," the lady protested; "I just priced them at a grocery store a block down the avenue, and that store was only asking twenty-five cents a dozen."

"Twenty-five cents is a very good price indeed," admitted the grocer. "Why didn't you buy them there?"

"Because they didn't have any," the lady replied.

"Ah, Madam," exclaimed the grocer, "when I don't have any eggs, my price is ten cents a dozen!"

The moral of that story, we believe, may be applied to our Notion Department. The value of our Notion Department rests on high quality of merchandise first; next on variety and wide assortment of items; and third on reasonableness of price. You'll usually find in our Notion Department what you want, when you want it, and at a price that will strike you as moderate.

Next Sunday is Mothers' Day

We are all agreed on one thing—that our Mothers are the very dearest folk in all the world. They are and have always been the heart of home. When we are well and happy, it is Mother who rejoices in our happiness and success. When we are ill or have suffered disappointments, who can comfort us like Mother?

What a splendid thing it is that the world is so full of good mothers! Without them most of the inspiration for the finest work in the world would have been lacking. We feel that one day a year to recognize Mother especially is all too little. But she knows how you love her and a gift, whether costly or very trifling in value, will delight her.

Gifts for Mother

A new pair of gloves, either in silk or kid, would be a welcome present. There are dainty gloves with embroidered or scalloped cuffs in all the new spring shades. They are priced from $1.50 to $3.25.

Chokers in all the lovely shades so desired this spring are $1.25 to $6.00. Bracelets of indestructible pearls to match the chokers are $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.

Flaconettes are a novel and pleasing gift. These miniature bottles of perfume come in Quelques Fleurs and Subtitled odors. They are only $1.00 and $1.25 each.

Coty's flaconettes in such desired perfumes as L'Or, Styl, Paris, and Emaude are very exclusive little remembrances. They are $1.00 each.

What a dainty, well-groomed feeling it gives one to soften and perfume the bath water with bath salts! Beautiful bottles in a variety of shapes and sizes are to be had at prices ranging from 50c to $2.95.

Any mother would be happy to receive one of the new pouch bags of striped more silk in black or one of the tapestry styles. They are $3.00 and $3.50.

A vest set of real lace—a thing that Mother dreams of owning in that far off time when the children are provided with everything they need. There are very lovely ones at $1.39 to $7.00 a set.

Cells are a finishing touch that lend distinction to one's street costume. A pretty pattern in black with white dots, or black with silver or gold thread is 60c a yard.

Have you thought how useful a new bridge lamp would be? It uses so many. It is just as good for sewing and reading as it is for bridge. An attractive one is only $2.19.
